RE: FIQ/World Bowling accredited coaching programs

One of the weaknesses of our organization is that we do not have a global recognition system for national and regional coaching certification programs, nor do we have a unified system for certifying coaches. We intend to solve this problem starting on March 25-27, 2014, when the Coaching Working Group task force will meet at the International Research and Training Center in Arlington, Texas USA to review and recommend certification for your existing programs.

We need your help in this process. If you have an existing coaching certification program, and you would like the program evaluated and potentially recognized as an FIQ/World Bowling approved program, I ask that you submit your program for consideration by the task force. If your program detail is not in English, please send in addition an English summary of the process and materials of the program.

Your program details may include:

Levels of certification

Process for certification

Testing procedures

Training / mentoring procedures

Certification level requirements

Recertification process if any

Background checks if any

Program materials / presentations

Program last update of materials

Program update process / review

All materials should be sent to coaching@worldbowling.org, no later than February 1, 2014. FIQ/World Bowling will not use any of your materials without your consent.

After the review and approval process is completed, the second stage of the project will be the creation of a system that recognizes approved programs at certain levels in a unified global system. Based on that system, interested coaches will then be invited to apply for FIQ/World Bowling certification.

We wish all of you the best of bowling for the New Year.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads 'Kevin Dornberger'.

Kevin Dornberger
President, FIQ / WTBA
